A memorable feast

By William L. Trimyer
A FEAST TO REMEMBER
Lesson For October 10, 1982
Bible Study Passages: Exodus 12:11-17, 24-27
INTRODUCTION
Introduction

Our calendars would be terribly depressing if they were not dotted with red numerals symbolizing holidays. Our Christian calendars would also be depressing were they not sprinkled with special celebrative events such as Chrsitmas, Palm Sunday, Easter and Pentecost.

The Bible is a Book of celebration! Both the Old and New Testaments contain numerous references to special feasts and celebrations. God intended for his people to celebrate life and the events of deliverance.

The term celebration is somewhat foreign to some Christians. Words like work, duty and obligation are much more familiar to many church goers. Our over-emphasis upon work,duty and obligation has sometime clouded our ability to celebrate our Christian heritage.

This week's lesson will focus upon the Jewish Passover. This ancient feast is still celebrated by Jews as a celebration of national deliverance.

Passing Over [Exodus 12:11-13]

When the Pharaoh refused to let the Hebrew slaves go, he was standing in direct opposition to God's divine blueprint. It took many plaques and death of all firstborn for the Pharoah to order the release of the slaves.

God instructed Moses to tell the people to prepare lambs to eat for both food and protection. They were to smear some of the lamb's blood on their doorpost as a sign to God. When the judgement of God fell across the Egyptian households, all Hebrew homes were passed over. Thus the name Passover.

The Hebrew slaves responded in faith to God's promise of deliverence. In a sense the Passover meal became the "last supper" for the Hebrews before beginning their long and hazardous journey.

A Farewell Feast [Exodus 12:14-17]

The Passover Feast was not a bedtime snack! This feast lasted an entire week. Following the eating of the Passover Lamb, the Hebrew people were to eat unleavened bread for seven days. This feast would become a commemorative occasion in the life of the Hebrew people.

This feast would begin and end with a worship service. This was not an ordinary meal but a religious occasion when the people would forever come together to celebrate their deliverance from slavery.

The Passover was later echoed in the Last Supper that our Lord instituted for his followers. This Last Supper became a memorial meal of our deliverance from sin by the atoning act of Christ's death on the Cross.

In Remembrance [Exodus 12:24-27]

The Passover Feast was designed to be an unforgettable occasion for celebration. We may forget certain celebrations but we can never forget powerful events such as Passover, Christmas, Easter and the Lord's Supper.

God instructed the Jews that they should institutionalize the Passover Feast and teach its meaning to their children. Jews and Christians alike have a rich heritage of faith to pass onto their offspring.

Why celebrate the Passover year in and year out? Why observe the Lord's Supper with such frequency? The answer lies in the value of repetition. One does not learn to play the piano by sitting down to one lesson. Only by repeated lessons and practice can one capture the beauty of that instrument.

Future generations cannot understand what the Passover means unless they respond to it with the same obedience and gratitude of their forefathers. Thus children are to learn the meaning of religious observances for themselves and their children.

We have certain customs in our home to teach our sons the meaning of Christ's birth, death and resurrection. We celebrate these occasions with activities which impress upon their young minds the rich heritage of our faith.

John V. Moore

Katherine Moore

Mission is set here

The Rev. and Mrs. John V. (Katherine) Moore, PCUS Missionaries in Korea since 1955, are to spend this furlough year, beginning September 16th, working in the bounds of Blue Ridge Presbytery, comprised of 96 churches in 16 counties of South-Central Virginia. Their official designation in "Missionaries-in-Residence in Blue Ridge Presbytery.

The Moores will make their home on Rivermont Avenue in Lynchburg and use office space in the suite of offices used by the Presbytery in the Westminister Presbyterian Church, Lynchburg. The Moores have three sons and they are grandparents as well.

Mr. Moore is a graduate of Hampden-Sydney College, Unio Theological Seminary in Richmond and Boston University School of Theology (Counseling). He has had experience in the U. S. Coast Guard, in the Pastorate and as a college professor prior to going to Korea. In mission work, he taught at Soong jun University in Taejon before assuming responsibilities as Field Secretary and Treasurer of the International Presbyterian Office which extends services to four Presbyterian Missions serving in Korea. This is a very busy administrative post.

Mrs. Moore is a graduate of Maryville College in Tennessee and the Presbyterian School of Christian Education in Richmond. She is the daughter of former missionaries, the late Rev. and Mrs. Elmer T. Boyer and was born in Chunju, Korea. She has lived in Charleston, West Virginia and is a member of the Ruffner Presbyterian church ther.

Mrs. Moore served as acquisitions librarian at Soong Jun University inTaejon for 10 years before recently moving to the capital city of Seoul. The mother of their three sons, she is hostess to an endless succession of guests in their home in Seoul.

The Moores will be traveling throughout the Presbytery telling of the work and sharing of their experiences in Korea and Mainland China.

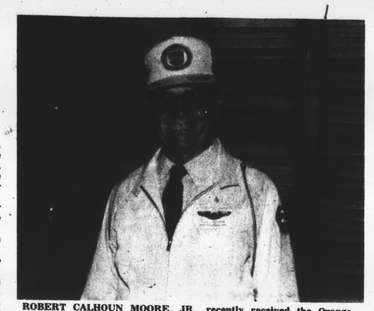
Moore is honored



ROBERT CALHOUN MOORE, JR., recently received the Orange Lanyard, a Dutch award for valor, for his service as a glider pilot during World War II. Moore is state commander of the WW II Glider Pilots' Association.

Robert Calhoun Moore Jr. recently received the Orange Lanyard, a Dutch award for valor, presented to the Glider Pilots of the IX Army Air Force Troop Carrier Command during World War II.

The award recognizes their participation in the Airborne operations and subsequent combat actions of Operation Market Garden in September 1944.

The Air Force Glider Pilots who took part in Operation Market Garden were recognized along with the 82nd and 101st AB Divisions. These Divisions, by a Dutch Ministerial Decree, were awarded the Order of William (Degree of the Knight) by the Queen of the Netherlands.

The Dutch Government, in a decree signed April 20, 1982, by the Dutch Ministry of Defense, has awarded the Orange Lanyard to those who took part in the airborne operations and combat actions in the central and southern parts of the Netherlands in the period from Sept. 17, November 25, 1944.

Colonel Herman Tummers, Royal Netherlands Army Senior Military Attache at the Dutch Embassy in Washington, D. C. presented the award to Moore at the National World War II Glider Pilots Association's convention at the MGM Hotel, Reno Nevada on September 11.

In excess of 700 attended the three day convention which is a yearly event.

Moore is presently State Commander of the National W. W. II Glider Pilots Association.

AMS News Notes

The 7th and 8th grade 4-H clubs of AMS had their first regular meeting the week of September 27) -30. The students filled out cards and selected projects. Officers were also elected.

7th Grade officers are: President, Byron Patterson; Vice President, Amanda Franklin; Secretary, Lorie Christian; Reporter, Kim Fuller; Recreation Leaders, Vanessa Ferguson and Rick Pack.

8th Grade officers are: President, Curtis Moore; Vice President, Ann Nolan; Secretary, Cheryl Wooten; Reporter, Jessica Stanley; Recreation Leaders, Leigh Ann Taylor and Angelia Jaggars.

These clubs will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays of the 3rd week of the month during 5th period. We are looking forward to a great year.

The Appomattox Junior Chapter FHA met on Thursday, September 16, for their first meeting of the year with the officers presiding.

This year we are planning on having many activities which we hope every member will enjoy. There will be handbooks presented to each member, letting them know all about what we plan on doing at each meeting.

Also there will be a chorus that the members can join, Ms. S. Wright will be in charge of it. The Chorus will sing at meetings and other special occasions.

There was a report about the FHA camp. It included the activities that happened each day, and what a great time everyone had. The officers served cookies to the members and led them in a game of scavenger hunt.
